

PT Helper

April 5, 2016

Dear Sprout Fund:

PT Helper, LLC has developed a mobile physical therapy app available on both Android™ and iOS™ devices. The app assists therapy patients complete their prescribed home exercises improving compliance and resulting in quicker recovery and improved well being. In conjunction with our newly released web-based Home Exercise Program solution, therapists can prescribe exercises that will automatically sync with their patient's smart device.

PT Helper, LLC supports the efforts of Play.CLOH.org in engaging PPS Athletes in fitness and wellness. PT Helper has previously supported Mark Rauterkus in 2015 by providing access to the PT Helper mobile app on Android for his digital badge program. Expanding the program to include older athletes and coaches will improve engagement and allow the students the opportunity to explore the benefits of technology with their athletic endeavors.

On a personal note, I am also the founder of Team Citius. Team Citius is a junior cycling club with a mission to introduce kids to bicycling in a fun and safe environment. Team Citius is also a USA Cycling Team that supports our junior riders compete in local, State and National events. It is through Team Citius that I first came to meet Coach Mark Rauterkus and his sons, nearly 10 years ago.

We support the collaborative effort proposed in the Bloomfield-Garfield Corp. grant application. We support the combination of play and technology as a means to expand the horizons of our young students.

Sincerely,

Frederick Gohh
President
