Dear Administrators of the DML Competition:

Our company, A.D.STARR, sells baseball and softball sports equipment through an extensive catalog and website to leagues around the nation. We are located in Pittsburgh, PA.

Our business would love to support the efforts of Play.CLOH.org and Mark Rauterkus. We are in discussions about how we can help to launch the digital badges, playlists, pathways and XPs to our customers in the months to come.

Most of the community baseball and softball leagues around the nation need additional volunteers and better resources for training for coaches, umpires, and scoring-table assistants.

We love the idea of, “playing well with others.” We think more technology and leadership tools in our sports would be welcomed.

Sincerely yours,
